take place at the club-house on next Thurs day evening.

The New York Athletic Club will send a team of champion athletes to the University of Pennsylvania games.

The Nassau Athletic Club, to encourage that best of exercises—boxing—has offered two gold medals for 120 and 140-pound sparrers of the clubcompetition to take place on every Monday evening. Vice-President Kneeland, ex-Assistant District-Attorney, of Brooklyn, has offered a medal for the club's 158-pound collar-and-elbow wrestlers.

Billy Olliver, the well-known boat builder, says the Columbia and Atalanta Boat clubs have been notified to be prepared to quit their present anchorages at twenty-four hours' notice. The boat-houses of these clubs will probably be moved down alongside of the Dauntless Club's float, almost opposite the New York Athletic Club's houses, which will be moved to Sedgemere in May. The New York Rowing Club will have to move down stream, too. The Wyanokes and Nassaus are pretty safe for some time, as are the Eagles and the old float of the Unions. The Unions new boat, which was too large to be towed through the railroad bridge, will probably have to be moved in the spring.

Mr. E. T. Conneff, champion runner, has sent a cablegram from Dublin, Ireland, to Mr. G. M. L. Sacks, Manhattan Athletic Club, to the effect that he has postponed sailing for New York for one week. Instead of sailing by the Umbria, Jan. 8, Mr. Conneff will sail on the Sarvin Leving.

A reporter of THE EVENING WORLD dropped in at the Teutonia Assembly Rooms last evening and found the ball of the I. D. K. Association going on merrily.

What does 'L. D. K.' mean?" asked several gentlemen. The answer was invariably "I don't know."

The reporter finally comprehended the joke. But joke or no joke they had a good time all the same.

The following were down on the programme as the "Police Committee:"

SOCIETY AFFAIRS OF NOTE.

Society interest this week centres in Mrs. Cornelins Vanderbit's musicale on Saturday afternoon, at appear. It is said that when Mrs. Vanderbilt called upon Mr. Abbey last week to engage young dofmann's services the manager at first said that it would be impossible for the boy to play at her house on Saturday. "Why not?" asked Mrs. Vander-"Because," replied Mr. Abbey," he is for a matinée that afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera-House, and I should have to forfeit the rent did he not appear, to say nothing of our profits." "What is the rent," said Mrs. Vanderbiit, "One thousand dollars," answered Mr. Abbey. "And your profits would be?" said the lady. "At least $1,500." "Very well," answered Mrs. Vanderblit, "I will pay the amount for rent and profits." Society sometimes pays high for its pleasures. The engagement is announced of Mr. E. D. Mor. gan, the grandson of the late Gov. Morgan and the heir of his large fortune, and Miss Lizzie Moran, daughter of Mr. Theodore T. Moran. Mr. Morgan is a widower, his first wife, who was Miss Penniman, having died of typhoid feverat Newport a year ago ast summer. Mr. Morgan has no children. He is the wner of the steam yacht Amy, in which, with his wife and a party of friends comprising Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Yznaga, Mr. Jack Beres-Miss Emily Yznaga and Mr. Wintbrop Rutherfurd, he made a voyage around the world two years ago. He also owns a hunting stable at Hempstead and is a fine horseman. He now about thirty-two years of age, and his fortune is estimated at $7,000,000. Miss Moran is one of the most popular girls in New York society, and is also very wealthy. The engagement was rumored last summer but was then denied. The Second Assembly ball will take place at Delmonico's this evening. It will be largely attended, as the week has not been an over-gay one, and the signs of the coming season are visible Betrayed by a Wounded Hand.

On Sunday night the cigar store of Magnus Mo Manus, at 1062 Third avenue, was entered by burgiars, who broke the glass in the fanlight and burgiars, who broke the glass in the fanlight and stole meerschaum goods worth $200. Drops of blood on the doorsiep showed that one of the burgiars had been cut by the glass. Ward Detectives Campbell and Martin went in search of a man with a wounded hand, and found him to be James O'Brien, a machinist, twenty-one years old, of 1069 Third avenue. When arrested O'Brien, who had four of the stolen pipes in his possession, acknowledged his guilt. The prisoner was arraigned at the Yorkville Police Court; and held in $1,000 bail for examination.

The Meanest Kind of Thief.

Barbara Hamburger, of 1105 First avenue, being in the last stage of suffering from hunger and want of fuel, applied to and received aid from a German charitable society. A bag of coal, which was sent to her, was placed in the ceilar, and Frederick Schaeffer, sixteen years old, who lives next door, stole the coal, although he was well aware of the poor woman's circumstances. The mean thief was arrested, and in the Yorkville Police Court Justice Murray held him in $300 ball to answer.

Ball of the Young Men's Independent Club. The next time the Young Men's Independent Club gives a ball it will be at the Metropolitan Opera-House or at the Academy of Music, for the Lexington Avenue Opera-House proved to be too small to accommodate all its friends President George A. Just was untiring in his efforts to take care of guests and he had his hands full. There were two bands, one for dance and the other for promenade music. Hosts of well-known Democrats were present with their families.

The letter received at this office, which was called for by the Marine yesterday, was from Mr. David Blanchard, of Boston, and contained an offer for a twelve or fifteen round ''go" between Dempsey and La Blanche. Mr. Blanchard says a Boston club will give a $1,000 purse for a twelve or fifteen round fight with three-ounce gloves between the puglists, $700 to the winner and $300 to the loser, club rules to govern and each man to be accompanied by two seconds only. The Marine says if Dempsey is not satisfied with the divided purse he is willing to have the winner take all. La Blanche is to meet Mike Burns at Waterbury, Conn., on Jan. 19, for 75 and 25 per cent. of the net gate receipts. Few men know the Bowery with ex-Chief Engineer Harry Howard, of the old Volunteer Fire Department. He was a Bowery boy, and he loves it to-day as he did of old. The ex-chief's familiar figure, now rendered unsteady from partial paralysis, may be seen any day in lower Bowery, his favorite hang-out being at Harris's shoe store. Paralysis with Harry doesn't mean what it doe

Patsy Kerrigan, the clever Boston lightweight, accompanied by Charlie Meally and Ned M'Gurn, came on from Boston yesterday to assist the Marine in the Dempsey match. Kerrigan is open to meet any 133 pound man. He had a seven round draw with Paddy Duffy at Gardner, Mass., two nights ago. Kerrigan says Daly is the favorite for the contest he is to have with Jimmy Carroll the first week in February. tute family of Sergt. Crowley. Sing Lee's Big Ruife. John O'Brien, of 49 East Tweifth stree, ran against the rule "no ticket, no washee" in Sing Lee's laundry at 57 Third avenue last night and at tempted to break it. According to his story the Chinaman locked the door, put the key in his pocket, produced a knife with a ten-inch blade and said: If La Blanche, the Marine, were at all su-perstitious he would regard as very ominous the trouble he seems to be having getting on

" Me killa you." the trouble he seems to be having getting on again with Dempsey. The Boston man, who was then regarded in New England as invincible, had no end of trouble to get Dempsey to meet him two years ago. The Nonpareli beat Pete McCoy and Jack Fogarty while La Blanche was trying to get him into a ring with him, and the Marine thought Dempsey was afraid. The result of the battle when they did meet however, was as hig a surprise "Me kills you."

The Chinaman's story to Justice Patterson at Esses Market Court was that O'Brien selsed him by the throat and'kicked him.

The charge against the Chinaman was assault with intent to kill.

"These people are dreadfully imposed upon," remarked Justice Patterson, as he held him for examination.

Wanted a Wife Who Can Cook. Morris Schneider came to Resex Market Court

Morris Schneider came to Resex Market Court yesterday in quest of a wife.

'She can live just as good as any wife in the world," he said, 'conly she must know how to cook."

'You will have to apply at Castle Garden, "said Lawyer Emanuel M. Friend.

'I pay $6 a week in a boarding-house," remarked Schneider, "and I have fallen away eighteen pounds in three months. I only weigh 500 pounds; once I weighed 500," he added, proudly.

Quite a Demand for Bear-Meat. The carcass of a 200-pound black bear lay on box in front of George C. Engel's market in East Fifty-ninth street yesterday, and every boy and girl who passed the place gave the shaggy hide a twitch to demonstrate the utter absence of fear while the animal stayed dead.

"He came from Minnesota," said Mr. Engel.
"Yes, there is quite a demand for bear mest at times, and I guess every steak out of that one is ordered now."

Some Venders Hurt the Others. "There is no doubt that the real Turkish candy," said Mr. S. G. Sparton to a reporter of THE EVENING WORLD, "Is one of the most delicate confections manufactured. It can only be made by those who have learned the art in their own country, and they are very few indeed.

"There is one thing, however, that is not pleas-ant, and that is that many venders are not as par-ticular as they should be as to desantiness, and that hurts us all."

An Over-Beld Young Man. Hugo Stephen, twenty-seven years of age, of 451 East Fourteenth street, entered the saloon of Julius A. The members of the "Deacon Brodie" Company who have been resting since their fight with Manager J. M. Hill, of the Union Square Theatre, to recover breath as it were, will begin their tour under E. J. Henley's management about Jan. 23. Of course it was rather hard on them that they could not see management about Jan. 23. Of course it was rather hard on them that they could not secure the Union Square as they had arranged to do, but everybody says that Mr. Hill did a wise thing not to break the magnificent run of "The Henrietta." The "Deacon Brodie" people want to appear in New York. So do a great number of other organizations.

"She" seems to have achieved a solid success in the Hub of the Universe. Charles Frohman, who accompanied the organization to Boston, says that for two nights people were turned away from the Hollis Street Theatre, and that the opening night suggested a popular circus. Belasco undertook the stage management of the Boston season, and arranged things so pleasantly that the curtain fell before 11 o'clock. There is a possibility that the engagement will be extended beyond the contemplated time, and with this end in view Mr. Frohman will return Bostonwards in a day or two. The success of "She" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" seems to show that people like dramatizations of popular novels.

Miss Amelia Summerville, the penderously beautiful, will leave this city to merrow to join the "Adonis" Company at Omaha and to assume her clever part of the "merry lit-tle mountain maid," which she has made such a conspicuous feature of the burlesqe that Mr. Dixey cannot do without her.

The idiosyncrasies of actors are numerous. John H. Russell is said to have a mania for the number 16. When he started out some months ago with a horseplay comedy called "Natural Gas," he had $16 in his inside "Natural Gas," he had $16 in his inside pocket. He went to Syracuse, and so captured the cultured audiences of that intellectual city that at the end of his engagement there he found he had $1,600. Now he swears by No. 16, and it is said on excellent authority that he will soon be able to wear a No. 16 hat.

Eben Plympton has signed a contract with Mme. Modjeska and will be leading man in her company at the Fourteenth Street Theatre. If Mme. Modjeska keeps to her intention of going to California, San Francisco will have that lady, Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Langtry in their midst between March and May,

She will undoubtedly be heard from in times to come if she will study carefully. Mr. Arthur Oswald, of London, sang in a pleasantly baritone manner, and Mrs. Imogen Brown delighted the audience with her excellent voice and "Within a Mile o' Edinboro' Town." Miss Laura Sedgwick Collins recited and Miss Lizzie MacNichol sang.

J. H. Ryley, Miss Madeline Lucette, Miss Maida Craigan and others will appear for Mrs. Crowley's benefit in "Mr. Plowter," a play known in England as "My Preserve," at the People's Theatre, Jan. 18.

"Put it in writing," said Signora Theodora Dalli, with a laugh.
"Why?"
"It is my fancy."
"Your will is my law," protested Mr. Dale.
So he wrote a very pretty and poetic declaration of love upon tinted paper and sent it to the signora's suit of apartments at a private hotel.

to the signora's suit of apartments at a private hotel.

The same evening he received the very letter which had come to Lionel Dale's window that October sunset with the pencilled his of sarcasm, and under it written:

"The young lady who beguled Mr. Chandos Dale's brother into a secret marriage has needed no assistance from his relatives. The Signora Dalli—otherwise Mrs. Lionel Dale—returns the inclosed compliments, and has the honor to bid Mr. Chandos Dale farewell."

Theodora never enjoyed anything so much in all her life as she did the writing of this letter.

in all her life as she that the letter.

She had conquered her own fortune now.
She was indebted to no one, and the next month she was married to a young English gentleman who had followed her bright eyes half over two continents, while Mr. Dale had the astinfaction of knowing that he had wrought his own desting.

"Hang it!" said Major Dale, "she's too pretty for that. Pil marry her."

Little Theodora Mayder, who had scarcely left off playing with her dolls, and was heartily sick of Mme. Bonmerci's exactions on the one side and the unconscious tyranny of the children on the other, was half-frightened, half-pleased when the handsome, middle-aged Major proposed matrimony to her.
